FUN ADVENTURE CONSERVATION

REF: Gen/Inf/06/08

ABOUT US

 Wild by Nature Ltd is part supported by Friends of the River Kelvin (FORK) a voluntary organization created to protect, improve and promote the wild area along the River Kelvin corridor.  Wild by Nature Ltd not only shares a very similar ethos to FORK, but both organizations, share a premises down at the river Kelvin, comprising of a store, large training area and office. The company has a safari style approach to adventure and our dedicated staff team has over fifty years combined experience in the design and delivery of adventurous activities. Staff selection is hinged on the person's level of competence for the adventure activities we provide, the passion and knowledge concerning the environment and their ability to relate to others. We aim to promote environmental custodianship through adventure; where adventure is achieved through travelling through the environment, we also believe that tourists and residents forms one community regardless of creed colour or religion, and we may mix visitors with residents. We acknowledge and celebrate different culture but, encourage one community. We can integrate the National Navigation Award scheme, John Muir award or British Canoe Union within your experience too!

ABOUT OUR SERVICE

We provide a range of specific Eco Adventure activities and expeditions. Our canoe safari's and canoe courses are run in and around the world famous Loch Lomond national Park. We run canoe skills courses for potential canoe coaches, guided day and multi day trips, we call this range of activities, 'Loch Lomond Canoe Safari's'. We also run a range of adventure activities in and around Glasgow including, exploring, bush craft and canoeing this is called the Urban Adventure Wild by Nature is any adventure activities associated with activity amongst the wider area out with Glasgow. You can choose to tailor make your own programme from our adventure activities.

During winter Wild side Africa kicks in where the company aims to facilitate a minimum of three annual expeditions to East Africa.

We also provide equipment hire and eco adventure consultancy. Our service purposefully does not have every activity under the sun, we never say, 'we can do that' if this would mean, we have to subcontract your entire event or it does not fit in with our company ethos or we run the risk of facilitating a poor activity. All our activities are professionally delivered, adhere to Health and Safety and are Eco friendly. We will try to have one point of contact, a person who deals with your request and activity provision.  Wild by Nature Ltd is a friendly small project which has conservation and activity and your needs at our core. We balance safety and fun, without losing that sense of adventure.
